Cliffside Dining

A table by the sea in Big Sur

Perched on the edge of rock outcroppings that plunge down to the Pacific, this modern residence at Big Sur gives the words "ocean view" a whole new meaning. Architects Rob Carver and Mary Ann Schicketanz of Carver + Schicketanz in Carmel, California, designed the two-story home with curved walls, breaking rooms into pie shapes so that each one takes advantage of the spectacular vistas of sea and sky. Maple cabinetry and natural finishes frame the kitchen and dining area (pictured)—one of many spots in this glassy home perfect for sunset gazing.
